FOREWORD

As we look forward to new horizons and new beginnings, our thoughts wander back to the fun-filled events and unforgettable memories at Natural Bridge High School.

As another school term comes to an end, we commemorate this annual in hopes that it will return fond memories and reminders of educational advancements to the possessor.

IN DEDICATION

As an expression of our most humble offering to a most esteemed member of our faculty who has devoted her time and earnest effort to improve our business educational department, we hereby dedicate this Span. Our XXXI copy of the NBHS Span is devoted to a fine educator and person, Mrs. Judith Zdinak.

Ja Anne,
Best of luck
to you always!

Williams vs. Students

Twelve years ago the industrious class of '70' toddled off to begin their funfilled school days. The first seven years of school the great class of '70' was split into three different grade schools. However, there were fun times at each school. Remember the day Verna and Eloise sneaked home for lunch and Verna fell into the creek. Remember the day David tied the string around the room in Mrs. Matthews room on April Fool's Day? Mrs. Matthews almost lost her good sense of humor. Finally, we reached our goal, our last year of grade school! Candy was S.C.A. President at Glasgow. This was the great year that we took our trip to Jamestown, Williamsburg, and Richmond and spent the night! Then on graduation day, Rodney, Pauline, Anne B. were our Valedictorians. Remember Verna forgot her speech.

Then came our first year of high school, and we united to form the great class of '70'. Throughout these glorious years, Candy, Anne, Brenda W., Becky, Cathy, and Donna led the cheers. Johnny led the class as President for four of these years and Brenda W. held the five-year record of being secretary. We really have had some fun times! Remember the chocolate milk shake, Mr. Warren? Also, our class holds the world's record for doing away with English teachers. Four different English teachers in our Junior year! Our Junior year was one of the greatest. First, we awaited the arrival of our rings and finally we decorated for the Prom—heartaches, headaches, and fun! Finally, we made it to our last trying year. During this year, Johnny, being backed by Mike, Brenda W., and Verna, led the class. Also, we cannot forget our S.C.A. President, David, who was backed by Gary and Brenda R.

Now our Senior year has come to a close. We look toward our graduation with joy and sadness. Soon we will be going our separate ways; many of our class we shall never see again. However, we can always look back upon our school days with pride and joy for the many friendships made and for the various goals accomplished.

Senior Last Will And Testament

I, Johnny Adams, do will my ability to take midnight swims in the Maury River to Harry Reed.

I, Verna Anthony, do will to my brother, Clifton, the ability to work hard and strive for the very best. To Brenda Martin, I will the best of everything.

I, Gary Arthur, do will The Bridge Bulletin and my inevitable ability to remain in school until 7:00 p.m. to lay out the paper to Cherie Watson.

I, Randy Austin, do will my hate for riding a late bus to David Wilcher.

I, Sandra Austin, do will the ability to play field hockey to my sister, Kathy, and my cousin, Karen Smith, in hopes they enjoy it as much as I did.

I, Danny Barger, do will my best job to Pat Ogden so he can have plenty of money.

I, Paul Barringer, being of sound mind and feeble body do will my entire estate to John Doe.

I, Becky Biggers, do will to Penny Lewis my ability to get a diamond in my senior year in hopes that she will follow in my footsteps. To Cathy Garrett, I will my title as "Most School Spirited."

I, Bobby Blacke, do will my coolness and athletic ability as well as my ability to get along with the teachers, to my brother, Carl, who is in desperate need of them.

I, Debbie Bouchard, do will my ability to take nursing to anyone who has the intestinal fortitude to stick with it and the brains to pass the test.

I, Anne Brizendine, do will to Anne St. Clair my navy dirndle skirt, to Pam Nixon my ability to drive the "Grey Ghost," and to anyone who thinks she has the mouth, personality, and vivaciousness my titles as "Slick," "Mouth," and "Biggest Flirt."

I, Connie Breedlove, do will my place in nursing to anyone who likes to STUDY, STUDY, STUDY; and to certain people I will my ability to tell a decent lie.

I, Mike Caldwell, faithful player of the trombone for six years, do hereby leave the talent to Mack Claytor in hopes he can learn it in twelve years.

I, Bonnie Camden, do will to my brother, Tommy, my ability to keep quiet in class.

I, Mark Claytor, do will my accomplishments, originality, and good looks to my brother, Mack, in hopes that eventually he will be human.

I, John Crist, do will my little blue convertible to the senior homecoming attendants and to Johnny Adams my ability not to be overruled by a girl.

I, Raynetta Early, do will my ability to get up on school mornings and face NBHS to Venessa Strawbridge, to all the students of NBHS, I will the ability to have a closer relationship with each other.

I, Gregory Elliott, do will my ability to do right in the classroom while class is going on to Gerald Ward.

I, Marguerite Fields, do will my ability to stay quiet in Study Hall until Mrs. Spangler turns her back to Brenda Martin and Michael Hunt; to anyone who thinks he can get away with it, I will my efforts to chew gum in Mrs. Suna's English 12 class without getting caught.

I, Ann Halsey, do will my place at NBHS as a senior to Sissy Thompson in hopes that she does better than I did; also to Sissy I will the power to have as strong an understanding with her friends as I have.

I, Sue Hamilton, do will my senior seat to my sister, Bonnie, in hopes that she will graduate.

I, Kay Harrison, do will to Katie Gray and Maria Hannak my ability to hook a Johnson in hopes that each gets the twin she is after.

I, Jimmy Hayslett, do will my boyish charm, good looks, and fine manners to Larry Joe Austin.

I, Eva Hill, do will my ability to graduate from high school to my sisters and brothers in hopes that they get there.

I, David Horne, do will my wit and loveability to Reggie Webb, my ability to remain unattached to Johnny Burger, and my position as Natural Bridge Life Guard to Breck Smith, who has all the qualifications.

I, Rodney Hubbard, do will my charm and quiet ways to my sister, Rita, and my musical ability to Walter Williams and Mack Claytor.

I, Linda Irby, do will my ability to laugh to Miss Huddle and Reggie Webb; to John Fauber and Kurt Russ I will my gift to gab in hopes they will use it in science class.

I, Wayne Johenning, being of sound mind do hereby will all of my driving skills to Pat Ogden in hopes that some day he will learn to drive.

I, Allan Johnson, do will my driver's license to Leslie Cash, who cannot seem to keep one, and also my blue truck if he can handle it.

I, Eddie Johnson, do will my position as "Most Typical Senior" and "Most Spirited" to Leslie Cash and my fast red machine to anyone who thinks he can handle it.

I, Steve A. Johnson, do will my blue machine to Dennis Watkins to carry his band equipment in if he thinks he can handle that powerhouse under the hood, and those happy moments at "Maple Inn."

I, Steve F. Johnson, do will to Gary Stuple the key to the cage so when the football players lock him in, he can get out.

I, Kassandra King, do will my ability to graduate to my brother, Jerel, in hopes he will follow in my footsteps.

I, Sharon Knick, do will my co-editorship of "The Span" to the uprising senior who takes my place, hoping he or she has a good a time and works as hard as I did.

I, Mike Lawhorne, hereby do will a pair of new football pants to Harry Reed so he will stop taking mine.

I, Dennis Link, do will my ability to defend myself against the "karate" expert, Larry Camden, to anyone who cannot.

I, Donna McDaniel, do will my position on the cheerleading squad for five consecutive years to any young lady who thinks she has the ability to fill my place. I will my titles "Garbage Gut" and "Most Athletic" to any girl who eats as much as I do and yet stays physically fit.

I, Pamela Miller, do will my glasses to any underclassman who does not see well.

I, Carolyn Moore, do will my baritone to Bo Cunningham on the condition he does not practice his "karate" on it. I will my SPEELING ability to future Advanced Composition students.

I, Earl Moore, do will my basketball abilities and good looks to Walter Dunn.

I, Lois Ogden, do will my ability to drive a V.W. and not cause heart attacks to Sandy Ferguson.

I, Peggy Radford, do will to my kid sister, Margie, my Aladden thermos and my set of keys to the family car. To anyone who will accept the challenge, I will my ability to keep a clean locker.

I, Pauline Ramsey, do will my trig. book to Jo Anne in hopes that she will understand the problems better than I did.

I, Brenda Reese, do will my driving skills to E.G. Phillips in hopes he will have as much fun driving to school in his senior year as I have had. I also will my ability not to curse when I get angry to Pat Pugh hoping that he will use it.

I, Gary Reynolds, do will my love for country music to Sara Baker in hopes that she won't hate it so much as she does.

I, Wanda Reynolds, do will the ability to grow to Kitie, so that when the wind blows he won't fly away.

I, Tommy Rice, do will my football ability and equipment to Tony Wallace hoping that he will be a great player next year; and my physical ability goes to Danny McFaddin because everybody knows he needs it.

I, Darlene Shanks, do bequeath my working schedule to Pamela Miller in hopes that she will get some sleep; my job selling doughnuts to anyone who wants it.

I, Delores Staton, do will my little soldier boy to anyone who thinks she can get him.

I, Gary St. Clair, do will my great height to Bridget Thompson in hopes she will grow and my ability to speed and not get caught to anyone.

I, Cassandra Strawbridge, do will to Nesi, the ability to get exempted from government and to Den my interest in minding my own business.

I, Laverne Stores, do will to my brother Butch, my home economics scissors to clip his hair and my ability to keep the good "Soul Spirit" at NBHS. To all the soul sisters and brothers of NBHS I will lover and togetherness forever.

I, Brenda Thompson, do will my ability to get along with all my teachers to Keith Parrent, my shy ways to Lowanda Anderson, my seat at the lunchroom table to Pat Caldwell, and the thought that "Only the strong survive" to all the eight graders.

I, Ronnie Thompson, do will my study hall to anyone who doesn't have one.

I, Eloise Turner, do will to Brenda Martin the great faith to keep pushing forward; to my brother, Douglas, I will the ability to keep up the Turner tradition in sports at NBHS.

I, Susan Walker, do will my quiet manner and attentiveness in all my classes to my younger sister Kathy, who is in great need of it. To my other sister, Roberta, I will my everlasting interest in the United States Air Force.

I, Gerald Ward, do will to the student body, the right way of doing their own thing, to Ace Hood, my great ability to stay out of fights, and to the teachers an easy time.

I, Cathy Watson, do will my trig. book to Mr. Emerson for his own personal edification; and my nickname "Pee Wee Cheerleader" to Bridget Thompson and to Mr. Gordon all of the "efe's" that I've collected this year.

I, Marilyn Watts, do will my great driving ability to Susan Wood, in hopes she will never wreck her "yellow truck."

I, Marvin Watts, do will all my love and affection to any of the young ladies who desire it and to all the young men who need it my ability to be a gentleman.

I, Candy Wilkerson, do will my position as a cheerleader for five consecutive years and my titles as assistant head and co-captain to Lyn Adams.

I, Lee Williams, do will to the student body my vision to know that color doesn't make the person and my feeling for togetherness.

I, Phillip Williams, do will my ability to do the impossible to Walter Dunn.

I, Vickie Williams, do will to my brother Walter, my ability to keep my mouth shut and to keep out of other people's business.

I, Linda Wood, do will to Mitzi Gibson a ticket to the skating rink; to Marilyn Wallace, I leave the memory of all the good and bad times that we had as chief cooks and bottle washers at Cave Mountain Lake last summer.

I, Brenda Watkins, do bequeath my kind and friendly ways and position on the varsity cheerleading squad to Debbie Wallace and my flirtatious ways to Tony Wallace in hopes that he will become a N.B. Playboy.

Valedictorian

Pauline Wray Ramsey

Jo Anne, We've really had some great times! Some not so great — a few fusses, but not so many. We really have had fun, though. Don't forget those handsome guys (?!) we've seen. Next year it will seem strange not to have you around, staying the night, walking to the store, etc. When I am gone, don't get into too much trouble. Try to avoid old Sherman — you might will avoid some trouble that way. Don't get too many crushes on the teachers (Male, of course) or guys who patronize the famous Milk Bar. Be good kind next year, I give you permission to watch over my favorite guy (Dean)! Just kidding, of Course! He's all mine! Patty
